LITERARY SECTION OF TUESDAY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. WILLIAMS

Daughter of Hostess, Miss Dorothy, Is Rare Entertainer in Dramatics

MRS. STANLEY RESIGNS

Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth Is Chosen Curator in Her
Place and Accepts

The final meeting of the literary section of the Tuesday club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Williams on South Orange street and proved a delightful social affair and entertainment.

The daughter of the hostess, Miss Dorothy Williams, who was recently graduated from the State university, gave a program of readings which revealed her as a young woman of unusual dramatic ability. Her university course was selected in the expectation that she would teach and she specialized on French, Latin and dramatic art. In the department last named she studied under Miss Lutz, whose work is very well known on this coast as well as in New York. She has also worked under Miss Mack and will continue this line next year when she goes to University of Southern California for post graduate work to secure her master's degree.

The initial number on her program yesterday was the first act of "The Tyranny of Tears," by George Haddon Chambers. This was followed by the always amusing "I fa' down in de mud" and by Riley's "Spoiled Child."

Miss H. May Smith, one of the recent additions to Glendale's colony of musicians, then gave two piano numbers, "Arabesque," by Theodore Locke and "A Sketch," by Bird.

Mrs. Charles E. Stanley, who had been elected curator, reported that her physician had forbidden her to undertake the work of that office because of her frail health. The section had no choice but to accept her resignation and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth was chosen in her stead.

Though the office was an unexpected honor and responsibility, Mrs. Hollingsworth accepted with an appropriate little speech in which she voiced her intention to serve the section to the best of her ability although she did not expect to equal Mrs. Williams' fine record.

Mrs. Williams, beaming with pleasure, expressed the satisfaction she felt in the happy, friendly spirit of this last gathering when "we take time just to love each other." When you have the members of your section standing back of you and working with you, anything is possible of accomplishment, she declared.

Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the club, in responding to call, voiced the interest she has always felt in the literary section as a leader and mem-

PAUL HUTCHINSON IS CHOSEN LEADER BY STUDENT BODY

Distances All Competitors in Election for President
Held Yesterday

The issuing of an extra by the Exposition testifies to the absorbing interest of Glendale high students in the returns of the election for officers of the student body which took place Tuesday. Three candidates competed for the presidency, Paul Hutchinson, Dale Wood and Victor Colburn. All are prominent in student activities and all popular. It was a spirited contest in which the boys and girls had a chance to play at politics, but it was clean, good natured politics. Paul Hutchinson proved the winner and will make a very acceptable leader the coming year. It is a logical promotion from the offices he has filled in the past. In his freshman year he represented his class in the oratorical contest and won second place. For the past two years he has been secretary of debating and during the present year has been president of his class.

George Jordan was elected secretary of publications by a large vote. Dorothy Peart was made secretary of state, Kathleen Campbell secretary of debating, Fern Peters secretary of finance, Lucy Strother secretary of assemblies, Fred Terzo secretary of athletics.

The election committee who acted as tellers in counting the vote was Garnet Peters, Eva Green, William Winfield and Bob White.

Election returns as tabulated were:

President—
Paul Hutchinson	311
Dale Wood	134
Victor Colburn	113
Secretary of State—
Dorothy Peart	377
Ruth James	169
Secretary of Debating—
Kathleen Campbell	442
Maynard Toll	108
Secretary of Finance—
Fern Peters	375
Naomi Lucas	165
Secretary of Publications—
George Jordan	452
Helen Ponton	99
Secretary of Assemblies—
Lucy Strother	345
Paul Holland	204
Secretary of Athletics—
Fred Terzo	302
Bob McCourt	250

FORD AUTOMOBILE PRICES REDUCED

The local Ford agency announces as a pleasant surprise for the buying public the fact that the prices on all models that are being put out by the Ford Motor company have again been reduced. This is accounted for by the reduction in the cost of materials that enter into the cars.

GOOD ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS FOR LEGION BENEFIT JUNE 15

The tremendous advance sale of tickets for the American Legion benefit to be given a week from tonight indicates the loyalty of Glendale residents to the cause of the ex-service men who sacrificed the precious boon of health in the cause of their country.

Those who patronize the show will get more than their money's worth. Mme. Constance Balfour, noted concert soprano, is one of the attractions. She will be accompanied by Morris Rhodes, violinist, and Miss Esther Rhodes, harpist.

There will be 12 acts in this all-star benefit, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Legion's fund for the sick.

Tickets are on sale at Cornwell & Kelly's, the Monarch Auto Supply Company and at the Dodge agency.

JAPANESE CHILD IS SEVERELY BITTEN BY PET DOG

The six-year-old daughter of B. Hora, a Japanese gardener living near the Los Feliz bridge, was badly bitten by their own dog on Monday morning. The child's scalp, left cheek and arm were torn by the dog, which attacked the child without provocation.

The doctor who attended the case ordered the dog confined for some time to determine if it was mad, but the men who tried to catch and tie the animal failed to do so, and shot it.

The dog's head was taken to the state laboratory which reported on examination that no evidence of rabies was found.

The child was badly shocked but bore her suffering bravely and is doing well.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON OF MUSIC SECTION

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will give its annual luncheon at the White Inn, Monday, June 13, at 1 p. m. All reservations should be made by Friday to the secretary, Mrs. A. S. Foster, Glen. 1120-J.

K. OF C. COUNCIL OF LOS ANGELES GIVES WINDOW TO NEW CHURCH HERE

That Los Angeles Council, Knights of Columbus, will donate a Tiffany stained glass window to the new Church of the Holy Family in Glendale, is the word brought to the Daily Press this morning, by W. B. Kelly, a member of Glendale council, who was a guest at the regular meeting of the Los Angeles Council last evening.

This action is taken by the Los Angeles Council in token of their appreciation and love of Father James S. O'Neill, past chaplain of the Los Angeles Council.

Mr. Kelly announced to the Los Angeles Knights the card party and dance to be given by the girls of Glendale Y. L. I., at the Ambassador hotel, to obtain funds to pay for a window in the new church and bespeak their patronage.

Not only did the Los Angeles Council promise to patronize the entertainment, but on motion of Dr. D. B. McCann, they voted unanimously to buy a window themselves in appreciation of their former chaplain, Father O'Neill.

BRAND BOULEVARD CLUB MEETS FRIDAY

A meeting of the members of the Brand Boulevard Improvement association has been called for Friday evening, at the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce, at 7:45. All property owners or others interested in the improvement of this thoroughfare are urged to be present.

Prof. Cookman Resigns

At the meeting of the board of education last evening, Prof. Alfred Cookman, instructor in general science and hygiene in the local high school, presented his resignation, as he has accepted a unanimous invitation extended him by the board of education of San Diego to become instructor of general science in the Union high school of that city. This is one of the largest high schools of the state, with an enrollment of approximately 3000 students.

Professor Cookman has accepted this larger field of usefulness with an increase in salary and the Student Body and his many friends here in Glendale will wish him great success in this new and larger field of work.

MRS. JANE TUTTLE OF VINE STREET ENTERTAINS A. H. CHAPTER

Mrs. Jane Tuttle, 617 Vine street, was hostess yesterday to Chapter A. H. P. E. O., at its regular semi-monthly "sandwich day" meeting.

"Sandwich day" is a custom dating back to war days and Red Cross work, and it means in this case, that members bring sandwiches to the luncheon, the hostess supplying one hot dish and the coffee. At the other meeting of the month, the hostess serves the entire luncheon.

Chapter A. H. is supplying the complete furnishing of one room at the Monte Vista Home for Underserved Children, and yesterday's meeting was largely devoted to work on a quilt for this room.

JURISDICTION OF LOCAL RED CROSS

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross, states that the local organization is subject to the orders of the Pacific coast division in the giving of aid in time of national calamity. Just as soon as it receives a call from the Pacific division it will act in the matter of contributions to the Pueblo flood sufferers. Of course should any local disaster occur, it would have authority to act on its own initiative. In meeting outside demands, however, it is subject to the coast division officials.

Anita Stewart's latest picture, "The Invisible Fear," has a paper chase for a feature. It is said to be more exciting than a horse race and more dangerous than a steeplechase.

Elliott Dexter and Montague Love have been added to the cast of Geo. Fitzmaurice's Paramount production of "Pier Ibbetson," which already has Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid as stars.

"MARY'S MILLIONS" TO BE PRESENTED BY SENIOR CLASS OF G. U. H. S.

The graduating class of the local high school will present a three-act comedy drama, "Mary's Millions," written by Frederick Johnson, at 8 o'clock Thursday and Friday evenings.

Miss Garden, dramatic coach for the high school, who is directing the play announces that there is no lead, but has an all-star cast. Those taking the leading parts are: Art Campbell, Brigham Bennett, Stanley Walker, T. Benton McNary, Wilbur Johns, Louise Wimmer, Edith Hagman, Marguerite Mandaville, Myra Jones, Ida Wilbur and Millicent Alvord. Members of the choir, which appears in the second act are: Harry American, Dorchester Walsh, Bob White and Warren Meeker. Warren Meeker has charge of the stage setting and is assisted by Roy Weetman, Harry American, John Richardson, James Gonzales, Albert Hewitt and Paul Holland have charge of the lighting.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH HAS LAST SUPPER IN BUNGALOW TONIGHT

The Central Christian church people will hold their regular weekly "get together" meeting this evening, beginning with a supper in the bungalow at 6 o'clock.

This will probably be the last "get together" supper of the congregation until the new church is built, when the commodious new dining-room and up-to-date kitchen will afford opportunity for events of this kind on a much larger scale.

The supper this evening will be followed by a Bible study at 7 o'clock, led by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Cole. A prayer service will precede the study and the theme to be considered is "Evangelism: Its Message, Gospel Facts for Faith." Romans 10:1-10.

The Bible study will be the books of Titus and Philemon.

The choir will hold a rehearsal after this meeting tonight.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE BEING MADE STEP BY STEP

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club remember that a long time ago, at the suggestion of the club's civics committee, the organization passed a resolution addressed to the board of city trustees, asking them to place seats at prominent crossings along the line of the Pacific Electric, for the use of persons waiting to take cars. The board took favorable action and ordered the seats from the Art Concrete works in Pasadena, twelve of them. This week they have arrived and been installed on Brand and also Broadway, where they will be of the greatest service. They are substantial and attractive, made for the most part of concrete with openings for the insertion of the boards which form the seats and backs. They should prove a great comfort not only to residents of Glendale but also to the many tourists who visit our city on business or pleasure and who patronize the electric cars.

SISTERS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS WITH A VERY PRETTY LUNCHEON

Miss Garnet Peters and her sister, Miss Fern Peters, of 209 North Orange street, were hostesses last Saturday at a four-course luncheon to a few of their high school friends.

Grouped about the prettily appointed table which was centered with a huge bowl of golden nasturtiums were Misses Louise Wimmer, Lois Webb, Eva Green, Grace Judd, Beulah Wallace of Eagle Rock, Lucille Wood of Los Angeles, and the two hostesses.

Music and congenial conversation were the diversions of the afternoon.

A FUTURE STAR

"Have the Wisbys named their little daughter yet?"

"No, they are having some trouble."

"Why so?"

"They want to choose a name that will look well on the motion picture screen."

Since the armistice, the French have reestablished 3540 of the 11,500 factories which were destroyed.

WILL BOOST FOR AN INDEPENDENT POSTOFFICE

W. E. Evans Will Visit Congressman Lineberger and Urge Passage of Bill

Dr. Harrower wishes us to announce that he learns from W. E. Evans, who expects to leave next Tuesday for New York city, that he will be glad to stop over in Washington, D. C., visit with his friend Lineberger, and deliver the petition for an independent postoffice here in Glendale.

Obviously, this would be a great advantage, because possibly the congressman and Mr. Evans might be able to deliver the petition to the postmaster-general's office and, also, a few well chosen words with it.

It is earnestly requested that every head of a family in Glendale who has not signed this petition and who believes we should have an independent postoffice here, to do so at the Chamber of Commerce or any of the banks, this week without fail. About one-half of the required signatures have been obtained.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC LOVERS HAVE FEAST

The music lovers of the local high school were given a treat by Keamoku A. Lewis, a native born Hawaiian, at 1:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Lewis opened the program by singing several vocal solos, which were appreciated very much. He then played several Hawaiian and popular melodies on a Hawaiian steel guitar, which were enjoyed so much that several more selections were played to quiet the loud applause of the students. He also played several pieces on a banjo ukulele, which included "In Trovatore" and "Trippoli." The program was concluded by several more vocal solos.

J. O. C. CLASS HAS REGULAR MEETING

Miss Lucretia Morgan, 646 North Maryland avenue, was hostess last evening to the J. O. C. class of the Methodist church, at their regular monthly meeting. Assistant hostesses were the president of the class, Mrs. C. M. Taylor, and Mmes. Bachell, Falkner, Lucas and St. Clair.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Taggart, and the business meeting followed. A social hour in charge of Miss Kelm was enjoyed by the fifty-five guests, and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

CLEANING UP OF PUEBLO PUSHED TO HIGHEST LIMIT

Large Number of Bodies Recovered and It Is Thought Many More Are Buried in Mud and Debris—It Will Be Weeks Before Business Streets Are Cleaned

(By International News Service)

PUEBLO, Colo., June 8.—The huge masses of debris that have been piled in Pueblo's streets since last Friday were gradually melting away today under the unceasing toil of thousands of laborers with the aid of giant caterpillar tractors and hundreds of motor trucks.

The task of "cleaning up," however, is so monumental that it will be weeks before all the business streets are made passable. The waters of both the Arkansas and Fountain rivers were flowing placidly in their normal channels, but great stagnant pools, in some places ten feet deep, could be seen in the low lying sections.

The recovered bodies number about 50 and estimates of the death toll continue to range between 100 and 500. In "Little Italy," The Grove and "Peppersauce Bottoms" districts, no attempt is being made by survivors to report missing relatives and friends. It is in these sections that the toll will be greatest.

The property damage is conserva-

MRS. SOUTHARD AT LAST TALKS TO REPORTERS

Poses for Photographs and Gives Out Information
Regarding Past Life

GOING BACK TO FIGHT

Refuses to Outline Plans for Defense But Intimates a Strong Legal Battle

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—After a good night's rest in a hotel, a visit to a hair-dressing establishment, a tour of department stores where she refurnished her wardrobe, and a sight-seeing trip to Chinatown, Mrs. Lydia Eva Southard, alleged "Bluebeardess," accused of the slaying of six people, today lowered the barrier to newspaper interviewers, but maintained the wall of reserve existent since her arrest in Honolulu. Yesterday she went to jail to escape newspaper reporters. Today she discovered they were not such bad folks after all. At her room at the Whitcomb hotel, for which she forsook a cell at the city jail late yesterday, she talked freely about everything but the charges she is going back to Twin Falls to face. She even posed agreeably for photographs but insisted they "must be good." The only intimation she would give of her plans was that she is going back to her old home in Idaho to fight. That a statement—probably a hot one—will be forthcoming after she has conferred with Guthrie, and Mills, Twin Falls attorneys, retained for her defense, she plainly intimated.

And in this connection it was revealed that her parents have not forsaken her, as published reports declared. Mrs. Southard admitted, with evident pleasure, that her counsel had been retained by her parents and that she had been assured of their support in framing her defense.

NIMBLE FINGERS CLUB VERY ACTIVE

Mrs. C. R. Norton, 801 East Wilson avenue, opened her home to the members of the Nimble Fingers Club for their regular semi-monthly session last evening.

It proved to be a banner meeting, twenty-one members being present. The evening was spent in sewing and congenial conversation. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cora Jones, Mrs. Alma Hillyard and Miss Helen Gould.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Richardson, 611 East Broadway, on June 21.

The python is considered the largest snake in the world. It is found in the East Indies and in the Philippine Islands.

SUPERVISOR J. S. DODGE HAS NEW APPOINTMENT

Governor Stephens Selects Him for State Superintendent of Banks—Salary Is $10,000 a Year—Henry W.
Wright Appointed as His Successor

Announcement has just been made of the retirement of Jonathan S. Dodge who so splendidly represented this district on the Board of county supervisors, to return to his first love, the banking business. He has accepted an appointment from Governor Stephens to become state superintendent of banks and fill the office made vacant by the resignation of Charles F. Stern of Berkeley. Henry W. Wright, a realty operator in Los Angeles and resident of Pasadena, has been appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy on the board of supervisors, which will in a few weeks select a president to succeed Mr. Dodge, whose term expires December, 1922.

Mr. Dodge's service on the board has been a source of great satisfaction to his constituents. A splendid financier, he was selected to straighten out the tangle into which county affairs had fallen as a result of the mismanagement of a previous administration, which created an indebtedness of something over a million dollars. The expectations of those who urged his candidacy were justified, and recent statements of the board indicate that the county is now in a highly prosperous financial condition.

So brilliant has been his administration that he has been frequently mentioned as good timber for the governorship of California.

His experience as a supervisor will be an aid in his new office, supplementing as it has the knowledge of big business affairs which he gained as president of the First National bank of South Pasadena, director of the California Realty corporation, the National Bank of Commerce of Los Angeles, the Cawston Ostich farm, and as chairman of the board of Trustees of South Pasadena.

Mr. Dodge is a native of Ohio and came to California in 1905. He will assume his new office, which commands a $10,000 yearly salary, sometime between now and July 1.

Mr. Wright represented his district in the assembly at Sacramento for four terms.

The R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. L. Russell, 322 Riverdale drive. The devotionals were led by the president, Mrs. Jewsbury, and a short business session was held. A very interesting treatise on the Parent-Teacher association meeting in Los Angeles was given by Mrs. M. S. Kuehny, secretary of the Los Angeles tenth district P. T. A. The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and daisies. About twenty ladies were present. Delicious refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed. Plans were made for an all-day picnic to take the place of the next regular meeting, to be held in Tujunga.

Mrs. Alma Danford, city librarian, is leaving Friday for Lake Tahoe, to attend the three-day session of the State Library association. Charles Cushing, librarian of the branch at Los Feliz road and Brand, will also attend and from Tahoe will go east to be gone for several weeks.

NEW YORK INVENTOR NOW A RESIDENT OF GLENDALE

Russell E. Taylor and Family
Are Domiciled on Glendale Avenue

Russell E. Taylor, mechanical engineer and inventor, who is now living in Glendale after an attack of semi-nervous prostration, caused by too close application to his work in New York city, made a demonstration of his latest invention Monday night at his home, 1239 South Glendale avenue.

The invention is a novel alternating current motor. This motor has no commutator or slip rings and there is no winding on the motor. It is controlled by a single lever and does not require rheostats. It is of simple and rugged construction and should find for itself a field in tractive work. It can be designed to use a current of any voltage and of any cycle, and has some very unique features, being capable of running at all speeds in either direction.

Essentially it is composed of a field frame made up of laminated iron and wound for an outside current. The stationary coil element is located between the poles. The movable element or rotor of the motor is made up of non-magnetic end plates having bearing sleeves. Between the end plates there are a series of supporting steel elements spaced equally apart.

This motor is thought to be a great

Mrs. L. Underwood, 212 South Everett street, is enjoying a visit with her friend, Miss Pearl Tucker of Fairfield, Iowa, who will be her guest for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davis recently entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Trimmer and daughter, of 419 Patterson avenue.

Mrs. Alfred Priest and daughter Clara Ruth, of 1422 North Central avenue, accompanied Mr. Priest on a motor trip to Ventura, where he was called on business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kent of 107 Arden avenue were week-end guests of Mrs. Kent's sister at Hemet.

Mrs. Nell Weaver and niece, Evelyn Harris, of 501 Raleigh street, went to Santa Ana today to attend the wedding of Mrs. Weaver's niece, Miss Margaret Baynton, which will take place at the Methodist church South of that city on Friday evening. Miss Baynton is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Widney, until after the marriage festivities. Mrs. Weaver and Miss Evelyn will remain in Santa Ana over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern of 109 North Adams street are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Mottern's brother, who, with his wife and small son, arrived last evening from Philadelphia. Mrs. Mottern will keep their little son while his parents go on to Seattle on a short trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Staring of 1114 East California street, accompanied by Mrs. Staring's brother, Ralph Peters, motored to Ontario today for a few days' visit.

The Doran street school will hold an all-day picnic at Brookside park Saturday. The mothers will provide a bountiful lunch and the five teachers will be guests—Miss Lois Hatch, Mrs. Mandis, Miss Ethel Land, Miss Doran. 211 North Adams street are enjoying

A number of friends and relatives of Mrs. Wm. Roe of 220 North Belmont street went to her home Saturday evening and helped her to celebrate her birthday anniversary.

J. A. Robinson of the Men's Shop is wearing a Rooseveltian smile these days due, perhaps, to the fact that the daily business of the new venture far exceeds all expectations. While the shop has been open only a few months, the volume of business has already equaled that which he thought would take a year to produce. Needless to say, Mr. Robinson is very grateful to the Glendale public for this evidence of their appreciation of his efforts to please them.

The Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church is planning a social afternoon in the church parlors on Friday, June 10, from 3 to 5 o'clock. All ladies of the church and their friends are invited and a special invitation is extended to newcomers.

Dr. and Mrs. Montague Cleaves of 1276 Boynton street, are rejoicing over the birth of a baby boy. The new arrival was born on Monday and is known as Montague Cleaves, Jr.

FRENCH BRIDE WAS VIOLENTLY HOMESICK

CHICAGO, June 8.—Chicago's street cars broke up an international war romance, according to Louis A. Troughton, a war bridegroom, who won a divorce here in Judge Sabath's court. Troughton married Gabrielle d'Oge, member of a French titled family and daughter of the mayor of Bourges, France, while overseas in 1918. He brought his bride back to Chicago after the armistice.

"When she got here she wasn't satisfied," Troughton testified. "She finally threatened to kill me if I didn't go back to France with her. When I refused she twice tried to commit suicide and I finally had to send her back. She blamed Yankee cooking and the street cars here in Chicago."

Halley's comet has been observed twenty-nine times in its seventy-six year passage around the sun.

Improvement on the other electric motors, because it will do away with all commutator, brush, and switch trouble and decrease the expense of upkeep.

Mr. Taylor bought the place at 1239 South Glendale avenue of L. W. Jackman and has remodeled the house completely, making some of the rooms larger, as well as repapering and decorating. He is a graduate of Stevens School of Technology and has made quite a name for himself in the east as an inventor. One of his notable achievements was the invention for tying short horsehairs so as to make hair cloth as wide as 60 inches.

Mr. Taylor has a charming wife as well as a son and daughter, and all are enjoying Glendale's wonderful climate to the full.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The steamship Seapoll was proceeding slowly under her own steam at 9 o'clock, after having struck an iceberg, according to advices to the navy department today from the Otter Cliff naval radio station. The radio messages stated that the forepeak of the vessel was filling with water, but that the steamship Orduna was but 250 miles away and it is believed that another vessel was standing by.

LONDON, June 8.—Widespread wire cutting raids, attributed to the Sinn Fein were made in the London and Liverpool districts early today. Shots were fired at Liverpool, but there were no casualties and no arrests had been made up to noon.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Regulations for the sale of beer as a medicine will be delayed a week or ten days because of necessary revisions in the tentative draft of the regulations, Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair announced today. The revisions are understood to tighten the proposed regulations.

CORK, June 8.—A youth was shot and killed by crown forces at Macroom today. He had disregarded an order to halt. While firing upon a crowd of civilians at Ballyvourney military policemen wounded an old man.

The name June is derived from Juno, a Roman divinity worshipped as the queen of heaven.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Babe Ruth, famous homerun maker of the New York Yankees, was today sent to Tombs prison for one day and fined $100 for violating the speed laws in his motor car. Sentence was imposed by Magistrate House in traffic court. The severity of the sentence was explained by the fact that it was the Babe's second offense.

CHICAGO, June 8.—All members of the Big Four railroad brotherhoods throughout the United States will take a tentative "strike vote" on July 1, it was announced today. The vote will be taken on whether to accept or reject the wage reductions announced June 1, by the United States railroad labor board. L. E. Sheppard, president of the Conductors, made the announcement.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Labor circles in the packing plants owned by the "Big Five" packers are in turmoil again today as the result of the latest request of the packers for permission to reduce wages. The packers late yesterday filed an application with Judge Samuel Alschuler, arbiter of wage disputes in the packing industry, asking permission to cut wages in the stockyards five cents an hour, effective June 9.

BERLIN, June 8.—The British military "offensive" to clean up Silesia is in full swing today. Italian troops are assisting the British.

ber, and thanked the ladies for their loyal support and confidence. Continuing, she said:

"Mrs. Williams has declared that no one can do anything in herself alone, but with the cooperation of others everything is possible. Unless you have an army behind the leader you have nothing. You must put confidence in your captain and do your part of the task. We cannot have a club without workers and if we have workers other things naturally follow. One mind inspires another."

Mrs. Hutchinson then told of the founding of the literary section by a small group of members during the administration of Mrs. J. H. Braly, of its steady growth since that date and the inspiration it has been to other sections. She expressed the hope that next year a few more sections will be added to club activities. One which has been asked for, she stated, is an arts and crafts section to take up work along the lines taught in the large stores of Los Angeles for home decoration. Another suggestion has been a Bible study section, similar to those conducted under the Long Beach Ebell and the Pasadena Shakespeare clubs. This department of the Shakespeare club, she had been told, exceeds in interest all others, the average attendance being 300.

Mrs. Hutchinson also mentioned the pleasure it is to the club directorate to have Mrs. Williams as one of its members.

Mrs. Stanley then gave a charming account of her journey to the meeting with Old Mary, the oldest of the Yosemite valley in company with her sister, describing the interesting features of the valley, its flora, her meeting with Old Mary, the oldest of the tribe of Digger Indians whose few survivors still call the valley their home. Old Mary is now reckoned to be 108 years old, and a new lodge was being built for her at the time Mrs. Stanley saw her. Mrs. Stanley's sister, Mrs. Gale, who is to be a resident of Glendale and member of the club, gave an excellent report of the pageant and the manner in which it was staged in one of the Yosemite meadows.

While this interesting account was being given, ice cream and cake were served by the hostess assisted by members of the section. It was one of the pleasantest meetings of the year and before separating for the summer vacation the ladies sang "God be with us 'till we meet again," to a piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Williams.

Mother Shipton was a reputed English prophetess who lived during the time of Henry VIII.

WARNS THAT U. S. IS LOSING TRADE IN SOUTH AMERICA

(By International News Service)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 8.—A warning against loss of South American trade through depreciation of monetary exchange values was given to American business men in a statement issued here by Rev. John F. O'Hara, dean of the department of commerce, Notre Dame university.

He called particular attention to the steady decrease in Argentine exchange.

"The effect of the phenomenal loss in value of South American moneys is that South American merchants are unable to buy goods in the United States or to pay for goods previously purchased in good faith," said Rev. O'Hara.

"Such goods have mounted in some custom houses in South America to an enormous extent and foreign commercial rivals of the United States are taking advantage of this situation to spread propaganda against American interests.

"These European rivals have spread the fabrication that the United States, having assumed financial supremacy of the world, is taking advantage of the situation to 'beat down' the exchanges of other countries. This explanation is not only absurd, but likewise it is dishonest."

The real explanation, the dean said, is that European accounts, especially English banking houses, have put off their indebtedness to American firms buying dollar acceptance in the South American market. These transfers of funds or credits from South America to the United States, he added, resulted in depreciation of the South American exchange rate.

"There is nothing dishonest about this process by which depreciation of exchange is brought about. It is simply good banking business, and the British exchange bankers must be given credit for taking advantage of the situation," he added. "However, it is working terrific harm to American interests in South America."

The dean declared the only remedy was the balancing of trade between the United States and Latin-American nations.

"The balance between imports and exports cannot be righted, however, until there is more production in the United States and consequently more demand here for South American raw products. The extension of credits to South American countries would materially help the present situation," said the economist.

"Another means of solving this situation would be the investment of American capital in South American securities. The permanent transfer of American funds to the prospective Latin-American markets would right the discrepancy between the supply and demand of bills and bring exchange back to par," he concluded. "This would enable South Americans to renew their trading in the American market."

FLOOD DANGER IN DENVER REPORTED AT AN END

Estimated That Between 50 and 75 Lives Have Been Lost Outside of Pueblo—Some Communities Are Entirely Isolated From Outside World

DENVER, Colo., June 8.—Danger from flood conditions in Denver was ended today with the gradual recession of waters of the Platte river.

In the western end of Denver wide areas of ground were still covered with debris washed up by the swollen torrents. Several packing houses in the stockyard district suffered much damage when the waters overflowed their plants.

Only one drowning is known to have occurred in the city.

Reports from the country east of Denver said that several highway bridges were threatened, but it was believed the peak of the flood had been reached late yesterday.

Two hundred passengers on a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy train were imperiled last night when the engine and baggage car of the train crashed through a flood-weakened bridge over the Platte river, at Union, Colo., 190 miles east of this city. Elmer C. Snedeker, fireman, was thrown to his death into the raging torrent.

Only meager reports of flood damage in the lower Arkansas valley from Pueblo east through La Junta, Las Animas and Lamar to the Kansas state line, were available in this city today. The entire community has been practically isolated since midnight Saturday. Estimates of the death toll in the state outside of Pueblo are placed at between 50 and 75. At Swink, 10 lives are believed to have been lost.

Twenty persons were lost in the flood at Avondale and 20 more at Boone. At the former place a 16-year-old boy is the only known survivor of a family of nine of Emilio Arointez.

At Vineland, a ranch family of eight and a hired man are missing and believed drowned.

Reports from La Junta say that seven were drowned in the tidal waters; four are known to have perished in Sterling; one in Longmont and one in Denver.

Estimates of property damage in the lower Arkansas range all the way from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000. Scores of bridges have been wiped out. Mile after mile of railroad track swept away, thousands of acres of beet sugar and other rich farm land destroyed and hundreds of homes lost.

In the district to the north of Denver, in the wheat belt of Sterling and the agricultural section around Greeley and Fort Morgan much damage has been suffered.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS FUNCTION

Members of Mrs. Baker's Class Celebrate Her Birthday Tuesday

Members of Mrs. Baker's class in the Sunday school of the Glendale Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon had a business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellers, 115 North Adams street, at which fifty were present.

New officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Baker, teacher; Mrs. Lilly, assistant teacher; Mrs. Taylor, president; Mrs. Kelley, vice-president; Mrs. Korb, secretary; Mrs. Patterson, assistant secretary; Mrs. Snyder, treasurer; Mrs. Cooper, reporter, and Mrs. McMillan, director of music.

Following the business session, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Brown were given a surprise birthday party, the class having discovered that it was their natal day. A handsome bouquet of flowers was presented to each lady and a beautiful birthday cake bearing sixteen candles graced the refreshment table. The refreshments, by the way, were delicious, and a very pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed by old and new members.

ALTAR SOCIETY HAS BUSINESS MEETING

Ladies of the Altar society of the Church of the Holy Family held a business meeting at the rectory last evening.

CAMERA MODELED AFTER HUMAN EYE

By HARRY L. ROGERS
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—A moving-picture camera comprising within the compass of a vest-pocket kodak most of the attributes of the eye and optic nerve and a great many of the functions of the human brain is the goal toward which scientists are aiming, and it is not unreasonable to expect them to attain it by 1950 or sooner, according to Dr. Henry D. Hubbard, assistant director of the United States bureau of standards.

Speaking before the Society of Motion Picture Engineers here, Dr. Hubbard predicted a brilliant future for the motion picture industry, fairly astounding his auditors with some of his suggestions as to probable lines of development.

Within 30 years, he predicted, scientists will have worked out a moving picture camera which will record in full color, develop the picture instantaneously and telegraph it exactly as recorded to an automatic filing chamber. By means of another tiny mechanism the film will be located and exhibited instantly without any reference to an index, just as certain scenes recorded perhaps many months before are brought up from the storehouse of memory by a mere impulse of the will. This super-camera, as foreshadowed by Dr. Hubbard, would have self-sensitizing plates, on which not separate pictures but a continuously changing picture would be formed and erased after being telegraphed to the storage room. The whole instrument, according to Hubbard, would function automatically and may reasonably be expected not to exceed in size the smallest kodaks of the present day.

Equipped with Self-Renewing Plates

"For fear such a camera may be declared impossible," said Dr. Hubbard, "I hasten to remind you that Mother Nature anticipated my specifications by some million years when she gave us our two eyes. The result is that each of us has such a pair of cameras, self-directing, self-focussing and self-cleaning, the exposed surfaces being cleansed 20 times every minute. These wonderful eye cameras are not made with hands, but they have automatic aperture adjustments, sensitize and develop their own plates instantly, taking colored pictures in full motion, stereoscopic pictures, telegraphing them exactly as recorded to the optic lobes of the brain, subject to instant recall in our little theaters of the mind."

"The cameras are portable, not larger than the smallest vest-pocket camera of today. The plates are concave, the lenses always in focus, giving a wide angle image of more than 10 degrees. The camera is guaranteed to work continuously 16 hours a day for three-score years and ten, and with care will give excellent service for 20 or 30 years longer. These cameras are equipped with self-renewing plates on each side of which three processes—sensitizing, development and erasure—are continuous and simultaneous. Mother Nature as an inventor has done some unpatented miracles and has no copyright on the designs."

DOROTHY COTTON'S BIRTHDAY PICNIC

The 15th birthday of Miss Dorothy Cotton was celebrated informally Tuesday afternoon with a little picnic on the lawn of her home, 1137 San Rafael avenue. The guest list included the teachers, Miss Knight, Miss Hunter and Miss Schindel, and members of the girls' indoor baseball team, Winifred Spindler, Ruth Hunt, Louise White, Kathleen Taylor, Lucille Nelson, Dorothy Van Osdel, Mildred Cole, Eloise Truitt, Jessie Griffin, Lulu and Frances Drake. The guests arrived about 4:30 and remained until 8 p. m., and had a jolly time over the picnic, entertaining themselves as girls do on such occasions.

HIKES FROM SEATTLE TO FRENCH CITY

PARIS, June 8.—Parisians basking in the sunshine on the Champs Elysees were recently intrigued by the sudden appearance in the middle of the avenue of a bare-headed and bare-footed pedestrian making his way toward the Place de la Concorde. Several interested spectators halted the man and asked whither he came. Wearing khaki trousers and shirt and carrying a heavy roll pack on his shoulders the walker, Hippolyte Martinet, wore a sash across his body on which was inscribed: "Globe Trotter, Seattle, New York, Europe and the World."

He explained that he had left Seattle for a walk around the world and was on his way from Antwerp to the south of France. It had taken him four months to go from Seattle to New York, where he boarded a liner for Antwerp. He had been 14 days on the road from the Belgian port. He felt very fit, though he could give no approximate date at which he expected reach America on his return home.

REAL LIFE—OR ITS CHEAP SUBSTITUTE?

Everything in life is filled with some special meaning, but will give up its secret only to the soul that is in tune with it.

Last Sunday the glorious mountains with which Glendale is girt round preached the majesty, sublimity and grandeur of the intelligence of their Maker; the gnarled live oaks in the foothills, the fragrant orange orchards, the delicate beauty of the little, unassuming wild flowers, the gay butterflies in the chaparral, the rollicking song of the mocking bird, the cheery chirp of the cricket at set of sun—all these things were eloquent with the glory of life, to be seen and heard by the multitudes motoring in the hills and to be absorbed into their very souls, to become a part of their very lives.

Many of them received the benediction of the beauty of God's out-of-doors and, consciously or unconsciously, were lifted to higher levels. Many others, unseeing and unhearing, rushed their machines through the transcendent beauty of the hills, intent on going somewhere, anywhere, just to keep going. Eyes had they, but they saw not; ears had they, but they heard not.

Down at the beaches the waves rolled in measured musical cadences over the silver sands; the sun touched with gleaming points of light the white sea-horses, champing and chafing up the strand; graceful gulls skimmed the clear blue above.

To many who had toiled the long week through the day at the beach brought restoration of power, sanity of viewpoint. A surcease from the monotony of the task to which for six days of the week they needs must sell their freedom for a little bread, a chance to live with their souls and with God.

Many others, however, crowded aimlessly up and down "the Pike" or "the boardwalk," the sound of "canned" music in merry-go-round and picture show in their ears and the reek of onion-seasoned "hot dogs" in their nostrils. If they would but take time to listen and think and allow the sublimity and loveliness of these playgrounds of nature to inundate their souls with waves of peace and beauty, what would it not mean to their lives for another week; nay, for eternity!

A pleasant surprise awaits the hitherto heedless person who will try to appreciate the glory surrounding him—to drink it in with his eyes, his ears, his very soul. He will be amazed at what he can absorb and at what satisfaction a practice of the habit will afford him.

Wordsworth long ago said all this better in his sonnet:

"The world is too much with us: late and soon,
Getting and spending we lay waste our powers;
Little we see in Nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!
The sea that bares her bosom to the moon,
The winds that howl at all hours,
And are upgathered now like sleeping flowers,
For this, for everything, we are out of tune;
It moves us not—Great God! I'd rather be
A Pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would leave me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea,
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn."

How little that is grand or beautiful or ennobling many of us get in our monotonous, stupid, conventional, colorless lives! What a cheap substitute we accept for real life, the life of the great Example of true living, who said He came that we might have life and have it more abundantly!

We linger, many of us, in the misty valleys of the sordid and the commonplace, when we might climb the sunlit hills that give us manners, virtue, freedom, power. God gives to us the Book of Life, every page beautiful with secrets that may open for us the golden sluices of the day. But many of us suffer the book to drop out of our hands, unappreciated, unread!

GRAVE AND GAY

Former Secretary Daniels was talking to a group of reporters at the army and navy air race at Mineola. "It is hard, boys," he said, "to keep selfishness out of politics and political questions. You find the selfish point of view predominating nearly everywhere. 'Do you think,' one Washington lady asked another, 'that we ought to have more battleships?' 'I certainly do,' the second lady answered. 'I've attended all the recent naval balls and there are nothing like enough battleships to furnish lieutenants for the ladies who want to dance.'"

When Jones' rich grandmother passed away, all his poverty-stricken friends rallied about him with words of cheer and comfort; but Jones remained sad and dejected. "She left a las will and testament, I suppose?" murmured Jenkins carelessly. "O yes," said Jones. "She left a will and testament." They hung expectant while sobs choked back his words. "I," he declared, "am to have the testament."

Pianist Rachmaninoff told in his New York flat the other day a story about his boyhood. "When I was a very little fellow," he said, "I played at a reception of a Russian count's and, for an urchin of seven, I flatter myself that I swung through Beethoven's 'Kreutzer Sonata' pretty successfully. 'The Kreutzer,' you know, has in it several long and impressive rests and during one of these rests the count's wife, a motherly old lady, leaned forward, patted me on the shoulder and said: 'Play us something you know, dear.'"

A dealer in stuffed animals who also kept a few live creatures for sale, gave his shop boy, who was permitted to sell the stuffed specimens, orders to call him when a customer asked for any of the live animals. One day a man called and demanded a monkey. "One of these?" asked the boy, who was in charge. He pointed to the stuffed specimens. "No; I want a live monkey," answered the customer. The boy stepped to the back of the shop. "You're wanted, sir," he called to his master.

A certain worthy couple in a country district had a boy who was supposed to be dumb, for up to his seventh year he had not spoken. One day it happened that he and his father were busy in the hayfield. It was very hot and the father paused for a drink of tea. As he was very slowly imbibing from the jar the boy said: "Make haste!" In astonishment the man lowered the jar from his lips and gazed at the boy. "Why lad," he exclaimed, "you're talking! Why didn't you speak afore?" "Nowt for to say," replied the boy.

A cinema actor was suing a company for an immense sum for breach of contract. Upon being asked why he demanded such a sum he replied: "Because I am the greatest actor in the world." Later, one of his friends took him to task for so loudly singing his own praises. "I know," replied the actor, "it must have sounded somewhat conceited, but I was under oath so what could I do?"

Natural gas and coal gas are both combustible gases, but are not identical.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

RHUBARB SPONGE

2 tablespoons of granulated gelatine,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup cold water, whites of two eggs, 1 cup of rhubarb sauce, 1-3 cup of sugar, 1 cup of milk. Soak gelatine in water until soft, scald milk over gelatine, and stir until it is dissolved. Set mixture in a cool place till it begins to stiffen, then beat well with an egg beater. Add the rhubarb and fold in the well beaten whites of eggs. Turn mixture into a mold that has been rinsed with cold water and chill until it is set. Serve with cream.

RHUBARB PUNCH

1 cup sugar, 1-2 cup water, juice of 2 lemons, 3 cups of rhubarb juice, 1 cup pineapple juice. Boil sugar and water three minutes and add to the fruit juice. Add ice and serve.

PUNCH No. 2

1-2 cups sugar,  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup water, juice of 3 oranges and 1 lemon, 3 pts. rhubarb juice, 1 pt. green tea twice ordinary strength. Boil sugar and water three minutes and add to fruit juice. Chill and serve.

RHUBARB PUFFS

1 cup flour, 1 teaspoonful baking powder, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoonful melted fat, 1 egg, rhubarb sauce. Combine all but the rhubarb in the order given, and beat mixture till smooth. Grease individual molds or cups and put 3 tablespoonful of sauce into each cup, then add 1 tablespoonful of batter. Steam them for 20 minutes and serve warm with cream and sugar or with foaming sauce.

PEACH-PINEAPPLE MARMALADE

2 quarts sliced peaches, 1 pt. rhubarb, 1 pt. pineapple, sugar and water. Peel, stone and slice enough peaches to make two quarts, then add a little water and stew until tender. Mash the peaches, then add the grated pineapple. All  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound of sugar to each pound of pulp. Boil to a thick marmalade, and fill into glasses or jars.

SAUCE

2-3 cup of rhubarb sauce, whites of 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar. Boil sugar and juice until syrup threads. Pour it over the well beaten egg whites and beat mixture till smooth and thick. Serve sauce cold.

RHUBARB PUDDING

1 pt. rhubarb sauce, 1 pt. bread crumbs, arrange rhubarb and crumbs in alternate layers, crumbs for last layer. Sift cinnamon or nutmeg or both over top and bake in moderate oven till crumbs are brown.

Rhubarb is usually obtainable during the summer season and is fine to combine with other fruits furnishing bulk without destroying the flavor of the fruit with which it is used; but if it is not easily procured it may be omitted or apples substituted, and the marmalade be equally as nice.

PEACH-ORANGE MARMALADE

2 quarts peaches, 4 oranges, sugar, 1 cup water, 1 pt. rhubarb, peach kernels or nutmeats. Cut the rhubarb into inch lengths, add the peeled and sliced peaches and place together in a saucepan with the water. Stew until soft and tender; then add the shredded oranges and the grated outer rind of two of the oranges. Measure the pulp and to each cup of it add one of sugar. Simmer for about twenty minutes, then pass through a sieve or colander. Boil to the consistency of marmalade and fill into glasses or jars, seal up and cover with paraffin. About a cup of chopped nut-meats will make a richer marmalade, or a few of the peach kernels may be blanched and chopped and used instead of nut-meats. If rhubarb is not used, add a little more water to the other fruits.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Mildred Davis, who has played opposite Harold Lloyd in all of his successful pictures since he became a real Hal Roach star, is now whirling about in a rumor vortex. Some of her friends say that she has signed with Roach to support Lloyd for the ensuing five years; others say the contract calls for a co-star position and curb-stone gossipers emphatically affirm that they know that Roach is planning to star her on her own account in light comedies. And then there are others who declare that she is to head an independent company, which will bear her name, and that she will release through the largest distributing organization in the industry. Meanwhile, Mildred is keeping her own counsel and refers all inquiries to the Hal Roach studio, where a wise owl meets all questions with: "Mildred Davis still is on the studio payroll." It is understood, however, that her present contract is about to expire and that Mildred is practicing writing her signature with a fountain pen.

"Retribution" will be the showing title of the John M. Stahl picture heretofore known as "The Child Thou Gavest Me." Lewis Stone, Barbara Castleton, Richard Headrick and William Desmond are the principal members of the all-star cast.

CAUCEY DEPEW SPEAKS OF LEADERS

Chauncey M. Depew, speaking of his 65 years' experience in public life, notes a change in the character of public leaders. Men like Joseph Choate, Ogden, Hoffman, Henry Ward Beecher and George William Curtiss have no peers today in public life, thinks Mr. Depew. There are no great after-dinner speakers, men famous for their wit as these men were. Mr. Depew thinks that Webster, Clay and Garfield had a literary quality not found now, and what they said is good for all time, while present day leaders speak of the moment and are lost in the crowd.

It should be remembered, however, that Mr. Depew sees these leaders in a perspective which men like Theodore Roosevelt and John Hay, nearer the present day, do not enjoy. Distance may lend some enchantment to Mr. Depew's impressions. But granting that there is some truth in these observations, there are reasons that lie beneath the surface. Since Webster and his time this country has passed from a home and rural economy to one of machine production and large cities. This transition has called out another type of public ability than that of the orator or after-dinner speaker.

The Herbert Hoover type of man was unknown in the days of Webster, and would have found it hard to make a place there. Organizers, directors, engineers, managers of large indus-

Ten years ago Florence Lawrence was the acknowledged queen of the screen. She was the idol of picture fans everywhere. She was the original Biograph girl and Mary Pickford was content to appear as an extra in a Flo Lawrence picture. Miss Lawrence's popularity was at its zenith when matrimony lured her from the silver sheet. She is now returning, and in a Hollywood studio she is putting the finishing touches to her first picture under the new conditions. It is a newspaper story and is called "The Unfoldment." Now the great question is cinema circles is: "Will Flo Lawrence 'come back'?" Her close friends say she will and that it will be with a bang. She is now 29 years old. She still is the possessor of charm, looks and personality. And there is no doubt as to her ability as an actress. But will the fans again take to her? Has she been forgotten entirely? "The Unfoldment" is a very strong story, the cast is composed of some of the best actors in filmland. Miss Lawrence's role is a congenial one and those in a position to know say that she has done some very remarkable work in it. All Hollywood is pulling for her. If success could be attained by good wishes Miss Lawrence would overnight regain her old-time footing in the hearts of picture fans. Here's hoping.

Marshall Neilan will picture Donn Byrne's novel, "The Stranger's Banquet."

THE VOICE OF LOVE

"Oh, Henry!" exclaimed the wife as she threw her arms rapturously round his neck. "I do love you so! Don't forget to leave me a couple of fives when you go to town this morning, will you, dear?"

"And this," muttered Henry, as he gently disengaged himself from her fond embrace, "this is what I call being pressed for money."

Higher education is more generally enjoyed today than when Webster and Clay lived, but it is no longer of the classical type alone. Many new avenues of activity have opened and scientific training fills a larger place than formerly.

Mr. Depew's observations, however, strikingly illustrate the great changes that have come about in this country within the span of a single life. In those days there are giants, too, but they are not the same kind of giants that abounded when Mr. Depew was a youth.

The fact is that the prevailing type of leader does not spring up arbitrarily and by chance. Leaders issue from a large social background. Centers of population, ringing special demands and special stimuli, do much to determine the kind of leader that appears.—Minneapolis Journal.

THEATERS

Glendale Theater

Today Frank Mayo, the distinguished young star, will appear in his latest photoplay, "Through Eyes of Men," at the Glendale theater.

This story tells of the thrilling young American millionaire and the beautiful premiere equestrienne of the troupe of Berkaro the Great. The showman comes to a fashionable seaside resort with his wonderful attraction, and Leila Leighton, the star, and the young millionaire meet. It is love at first sight, but Berkaro steps in and the story starts with a smashing scene.

One of the most important characters in "Through Eyes of Men" is played by Master Ben Alexander, one of D. W. Griffith's proteges, who will be remembered for his remarkable work in "The Hearts of the World" and the "Unpardonable Sin."

This talented young boy plays the role of little Billy, who becomes the storm center in the fight between Allen, the American, and Berkaro, the Arab, for the possession of the beautiful Leila Leighton.

There are thrills galore, beautiful women, magnificent settings, and those who love horses will see a score of pure Arabian thoroughbreds who were brought from Asia to this country to appear in this picture.

A Pathe review and a Rolin comedy are other features of the Glendale's program today.

Palace Grand

Mary Pickford will be the principal attraction at the Palace Grand starting today, where this ever popular star's new, United Artists production, "Through the Back Door," is to be given a three days' showing.

"America's Sweetheart" has seldom appeared in a more appealing and satisfying play, according to the theater management. It is said to be a story of tremendous heart interest, dealing with the pathetic efforts of a little French girl to reach her mother, from whom she has been separated since babyhood.

The climax of the story comes in one of America's castles of the rich situated on Long Island. The plot is one of numerous complications, featuring those serio-comic situations where laughter mingles with the tears. Miss Pickford as a little girl is always at her best, and for that reason it is believed that this picture will be especially pleasing to Little Mary's many admirers.

THE GLENDALE DAILY PRESS BRINGS NEW TALENT TO CLUB OF CITY

When Mrs. Johnson, a newcomer in Glendale, read in the Glendale Daily Press, last evening, an account of recent activities of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, including its election of officers on Monday, she felt more at home than she had at any time since coming to Glendale.

The reason for this was that Mrs. Johnson found that Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, the new curator of the section, had been a dramatic instructor in a school in which she herself had subsequently taught in Duluth, Minn.; moreover, Mrs. Johnson is a relative of Blanche Booth, Edwin Booth's leading lady, who was Mrs. Montgomery's teacher, and she is well acquainted with Laura Frankfield, another teacher of Mrs. Montgomery's.

Mrs. Johnson immediately sought out Mrs. Montgomery and the two ladies had a most congenial chat, naturally. Mrs. Johnson will become a member of the Tuesday Afternoon club next year and will, of course, join the Shakespeare section, to which she will no doubt be an acquisition. She was dramatic instructor in the University of Minnesota for four years.

AMERICAN LEGION SICK FUND BENEFIT

McAdam dancers will provide one of the biggest acts on the program to be given Wednesday night, July 15, at the Palace Grand theater, Glendale, for the American Legion sick fund benefit. While they could provide an entire evening's entertainment, these accomplished students of terpsichore will be but one of 12 big features. There are less than 1000 seats for this big show, so get your tickets early.

Tickets can be purchased at Roberts & Echols', Spolurs, and the Elks' club.

The first rural free delivery in the United States was established in West Virginia in 1896.

G. U. H. S. TRUSTEES ACT ON BUDGET

Several Changes in Teaching Staff of School in Prospect for Next Session

The board of trustees of Glendale high school at a meeting held one week ago established a minimum to maximum schedule of $2400 to $2700 for department teachers, the pay to be governed to some extent by the size of the department and the number of teachers to be supervised. Teachers in the manual training department and men's physical education were not included in this schedule, however, because from the nature of the work they do there is always a scarcity of teachers with good personality and good training and for that reason the board must exercise some freedom in the paying of salaries, in order to get the competent, efficient men to make the work what it should be and make it conform to the high standards of other departments.

Tuesday night the board met to consider its budget and salary list and also vacancies that will have to be filled. Several teachers have handed in their resignations because they desire to go into other lines of work or to accept appointments elsewhere. Among these are Mr. Wright of the wood-working department, Charles Poore, head of the chemistry department, and Alfred Cookman, teacher of general science, who goes to San Diego. Miss Rennison has announced that she is going to New York to study music, and several other teachers have indicated they have plans which may take them from Glendale next year, but which are not yet definite enough to announce.

Miss Eggert, who has been away on a leave of absence studying at Columbia University, has accepted a position in Alameda, which is near her home. From present indications there will be six or seven vacancies to be filled in next year's teaching staff, caused by these changes. Miss LiHan Shattuck was last night elected to take the place of Miss Eggert in the department of girls' physical education.

In using the barometer, we should notice whether it be greatly above or below the mean height and the rapidity of its rise or fall.

Experts have estimated that 20,000,000 tons of paper pulp can be produced each year from India's bamboo and grasses.

BIRTHDAYS OF THREE ARE CELEBRATED IN ONE PARTY

Combined Celebration Is for Two Bucher Boys and Girl Cousin

Last Saturday, Billy Bucher, son of E. S. Bucher, 610 West Broadway, was four years old. On Monday, his brother John was three and on Tuesday, his cousin, Caroline Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cunningham of 1026 Florence place, was five years old.

Three birthday parties so very close together would have been 'bout two too many for such very little folks; so Caroline's mother and Bill and John's mother made a lovely plan; they would have one party celebrating the three birthdays. And they chose the birthday of the child that was neither the oldest nor the youngest; that was Bill's birthday.

And they had it at Bill's house, because it was his birthday and there are lovely pepper trees in his yard. And so, on Saturday afternoon, 14 little friends came there and played games under the prettiest pepper tree of all, and it was all trimmed up with dozens and dozens of toy balloons, that swayed and danced in the breezes that blew softly through the feathery foliage.

When they were tired playing, Caroline's mother and Bill and John's mother called them all into the dining-room, and there was a lovely table with pretty flowers on it and three birthday cakes; John's had three candles on it, Bill's had four, and Caroline's, five. And there were 14 dishes of lovely ice cream, too; and all the children sat down and ate the ice cream and some cake, and then they told Caroline and Bill and John that they had a nice time at the party, and then they went home. And that was the end of the lovely party.

Soldier Legislation

Under this head extracts of bills passed by the California state legislature at its forty-fourth session and signed by Governor Stephens, will be published from time to time.

A bill evidently designed to protect soldiers, sailors, marines and Red Cross or army nurses against official extortion for services rendered was passed as senate bill No. 25. It amends a certain section of the political code relating to official services any fees forbidding the collection of any fee or compensation on the part of any public officer, board or body acting in his or her official capacity except a notary public, from any soldier, sailor or marine of the United States army or navy or marine corps, army or navy nurse, or Red Cross nurse, for recording or indexing any discharge, issuing certified copies thereof, or any service rendered in the matter of a pension claim or war risk insurance claim or furnishing a verified copy of a public record of marriage, death, birth, divorce, deed of trust, mortgage or property assessment or making search for claim where same is to be used in a claim for pension or allotment, allowance, or compensation insurance. Notaries public shall not make any charge for an acknowledgment to any document that is to be filed in any pending claim in the bureau of pensions, department of interior, or in the bureau of war risk insurance, treasury department. Upon payment by any person of the fees required by law, the officer must perform the services required, and for every failure or refusal to do so such officer shall be liable on his or her official bond.

Sensitive Lad Hangs Self

(By International News Service) OAKLAND, June 8.—Harry Kinkestein, 13, batted his ball over a neighbor's fence. She scolded him and his father punished him. He retired to the basement of his home and hung himself.

The word "pretzel" is from the German "prezel." It was derived from the Latin "bracellus," meaning armlet.

LOOKING BACKWARD

One of the saddest sights in the world is that of the old person dragging out a drab and hopeless existence, dependent upon charity.

They look back sadly and yearningly upon the time when life was bright and free of care.

When they spent as they earned — taking no thought of the morrow.

And they realize how true it is that "the saddest of words by tongue or pen are these—it might have been."

Are you taking thought for the morrow? Are you saving now in your youth so that in your old age you will be provided for?

If not—start today. We pay 6 per cent and Safety.

'DEESTRICK SKULE' TO BE REPEATED

Members of Teachers' Club to Give it as Benefit for Flood Sufferers

To meet the public demand for a repetition of the "Deestrick Skule," because so many who desired to see it were unable to secure seats at the two performances at the high school, members of the City Teachers' Club have decided to give it again next Monday night at the tabernacle on the corner of Harvard and Orange streets as a benefit for the Pueblo flood sufferers. The cast will be the same and the prices unchanged. The production will be superior in many ways to the original presentation and this fact, together with the strong appeal of the cause for which they are giving it, should insure a large audience. Governor Stephens and President Harding have issued proclamations calling upon the people of the state and the United States to aid the homeless of the stricken districts who have not only lost by death, but have had everything they possessed swept away.

BUILDING COMPANY OPENS OFFICE HERE

The Perfect Cut company has opened an office in Glendale at 710 East Broadway, with William Heaney and Frank Burns in charge.

Mr. Heaney has represented this company, whose home office is in Portland, Ore., for many years. He has sold materials for many fine buildings in Montana and Idaho.

Mr. Burns has worked for the same company as their construction engineer; he has had varied and valuable experience in the home building line in the west and middle west.

By the plan of the Perfect Cut Building company, one buys one's home all ready to erect, the various parts and pieces all ready cut to exact measurements by machinery.

It is claimed for this method that it enables one to own a splendid well-built home at the price asked for an ordinary shack; that it eliminates the profit of the broker, the jobber, the retail dealer, the contractor and the real estate dealer.

All "Perfect Cut" homes are manufactured in Portland, the greatest lumber market in the world; this gives the company the advantage of securing the best grade materials at nominal cost. Shipments of orders are made in from 2 to 3 days after orders are received.

The company's Glendale representatives, Messrs. Heaney and Burns, will be glad to give information to anyone interested and to cooperate in the solution of home-building problems. They have catalogues showing pictures and plans of beautiful homes.
